Contemporary PNG Studies: DWU Research Journal

Volume 35, Special Issue, 2021

The Contemporary PNG Studies: DWU Research Journal is published twice a year in May and November. However, this is a Special Issue to celebrate the successful completion of the first cohort of our Master of Public Health program. The journal provides the means for DWU staff, students and associated academics to publish research findings, personal perspectives, reports of projects or developments and reviews of recent books on Papua New Guinea. The journal promotes investigations of practice and theory in fields covered by faculties and activities of Divine Word University at all its campuses.

Full-text articles from volumes of the Contemporary PNG Studies: DWU Research Journal can be accessed at <http://www.dwu.ac.pg>. Using the pull-down menus, go from Research on the homepage to Research Journal. There you can locate the articles.

Information for contributors

Articles should be 3000-6000 words in length. The word count includes the abstract and references. A 50-75-word biographical note about the author should accompany the article. Reviews of recent books on Papua New Guinea should be 900-1500 words in length. The journal uses APA referencing style and prefers no footnotes. Electronic contributions using PC software can be sent by email attachment to jkurian@dwu.ac.pg. Manuscripts will be acknowledged on receipt.
